

YAD YAD

1966

To
Mrs. Baldwin
To one of the nicest
people that I know.
I wish you luck in the rest
of this year and the years to come. Take good care of yourself.
I hope to see you here next year at Regional!

With best wishes
See ya next year (el hope)
Pam Hopkins.

Dr. Leslie M. Tourville
Principal of Lincoln-Sudbury Regional High School
1965-1966

DYAD SPRING 1966

Autographing the 1966 Dyad for Dolores.

Dr. Tourville leaves Regional after ten years of helping it grow toward being a school where the students have freedom on terms of responsibility. He has considered and worked out new ideas to be applied to Lincoln-Sudbury, always aiming for a better way, and a better school; he has found time for student activities, whether lending suggestions and aid, or actually taking part; he has maintained an interest in individual students, and has helped them in many ways. His calm and relaxed, yet firm manner has been very successful in guiding from its beginning to its present stature as a noteworthy high school.

Dr. Tourville is now Principal of Newburgh Free Academy, Newburgh, N.Y. Our thanks and best wishes go with him and with his family.

The Dancers

Mrs. Harriet Rogers, play director; Mr. Robert Wentworth, music director; and Mr. Richard Jeter, stage and set design and technical director, with the assistance of a lively and talented cast of Lincoln-Sudbury students and teachers, created a picturesque, delightful, and exuberant production of "Plain and Fancy," a musical tale of the Amish, in which "everybody is in love with the right party in the end." "Plain and Fancy" picture credits: Victor Neumeier, William Edmonds, Purdy.

SENIOR PROM

They're real!

Queen Sally Truesdale receives her crown from "Ted" Mikoski, senior class president. The ladies of her court are, Beth Hill, Deborah Thurlow, Donna Burke, and Sally Devereux.

Don Burgess, professional magician and custodian at Lincoln-Sudbury, awed and delighted the children with his magic show.

The seniors enjoyed it, too.

CHILDREN'S DAY

On a rainy Wednesday, June 1, the Lincoln-Sudbury seniors entertained 75 children who are in the care of the Franciscan Sisters of the Atonement, Boston, in observance of the eighth annual Children's Day. The Class of 1959 initiated this project — a day in the country for underprivileged children.

A professional clown was a new attraction this year.

A rainy day is just right for fishing down on the farm.

Faculty and Staff join the children at the cook-out lunch as guests of the seniors.

Senior chef, Bruce Ey, turns the hamburgers as seniors serve the children and themselves.

Out to lunch.

It's a busy but enjoyable day for class advisers, Mr. Carl Perkins and Mrs. Martha Pappas.

Skeptical, Dr. Tourville?

Fire engines are a familiar sight to city children, but a ride on one is a new and exciting experience.

Fun, but a bit frightening.

Testing all the endurance Elliott built up in soccer and track.

CHILDREN'S DAY

Story Time

Freshman Faith Lundblad reads a book she wrote and her father illustrated about a musical mouse named Sam. This was one of 35 books written by juniors and freshmen for underprivileged children.

SENIOR BANQUET

Receiving Line, Dr. Tourville, Mrs. Tourville, Edward Mikoski, Mr. Perkins, Supt. Heath, Mrs. Heath, Mrs. Pollock, former Vice Principal, Mr. Thurston.

Seniors, Joseph Gentile, Gary Miranda, and William Hamilton greet Mrs. Pollock and the Thurstons.

Class President "Ted" Mikoski reads the Class Will. At the head table Mr. Heath, Lauren Leone, treasurer, and David Horton, vice president.

The traditional senior banquet for seniors and faculty members was highlighted by Ted Mikoski's clever after-dinner review of the problems of a class president, and advisor Carl Perkins' account of the accomplishments of individual class members. Mrs. Betty J. Adrian, faculty chairman, Leslie Leone, senior chairman, and an imaginative decorating committee made this a gracious and memorable affair.

"We'll hear the will."

"What are you writing?" Autographing the Dyad.

Robert Fagerlund receives the Paul J. Vernon Scholarship of $500, given by the Lincoln-Sudbury Regional Teachers' Association, from Mr. Mark G. Gulesian, association president.

Dr. Tourville presents the Spanish III award to Pamela Thayer who also won the D.A.R. History award.

Andrea Lowenstein, editor of the literary magazine, the Kaleidoscope, receives a special award from Mr. Frank Heys, Jr., English Dept. Chairman.

John Becker receives the Technical Drawing award.

Joris Naiman receives a certificate for excellence in English I.

A certificate for excellence in French IV is presented to Pamela Warner.

The Bookkeeping award is presented to Kennard Rawson.

Ann Rhodes receives the French III award.

First year French and History awards are received by Caroline Emmons.

Regional's first Merit Scholar, Anne Bobroff, is congratulated by Principal Tourville. Anne also won the Senior English Prize Book.

The Faculty Plaque, Regional's highest honor, is presented to David Palmer, who receives a standing ovation.

Fred McCarthy receives the Industrial Arts award.

John Mann receives an Industrial Arts Award.

Gail Aiken is named the outstanding student in business subjects.

Wayne Shurling receives an Industrial Arts Award.

Gail Aiken is honored as the outstanding Home Economics student.

Mr. Robert E. Millet, Assist. Principal, presents the D.A.R. Good Citizenship Award to John Mercury. Lucy Herman was the young lady so honored.

Ann Novak, Robert Hagmann, and Albert England, outstanding in mathematics and mathematics competition are honored by Mr. Alexander Marshall, Jr., Mathematics Dept. Chairman.

Recognized by Mrs. Miriam S. Coombs, advisor, for exceptional service to the 1966 Dyad are, Steven Huneck, Carole Cathcart, Thomas Harris, Editor Susan Morrison, Robyn Dermon, Barbara Williams, and Luanne Silva.

Proud Patents and Faculty Members.

ACADEMIC AWARDS

Lincoln-Sudbury annually honors its outstanding scholars and citizens at an assembly to which the parents of the award winners are invited. The awards are a surprise to the recipients. We regret that Jonathan Donaldson, recipient of the DeNormandie Award given to the junior who has given exceptional service to his school, is not pictured here.

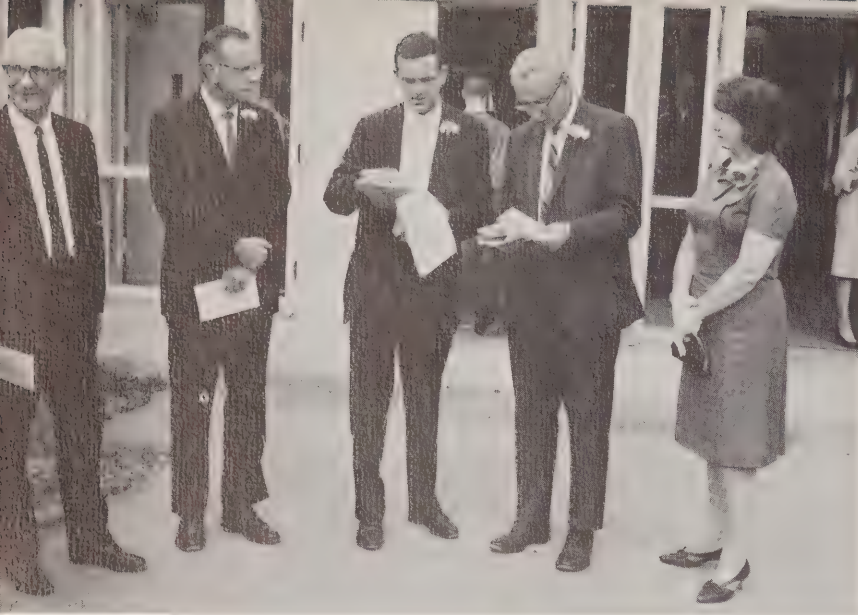

Mr. Paul Walsh, instructor, and students honored by the Mass. Society for Industrial Education. James Nash, James King, and Daniel Place.

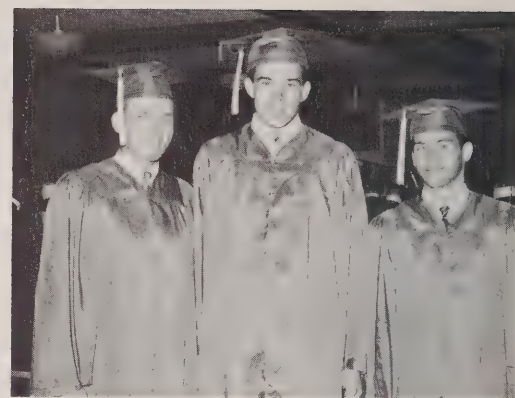

Peter Adrian, winner of the Lincoln Historical Society Award.

PFC Alvin La Pointe, modest Vietnam hero and former LSR student receives a standing ovation.

Class Advisor, Carl Perkins and School Committee Chairman, Dr. Howard W. Emmons check the diploma list. Rev. Charles Styron and Mr. James M. Jagger, Mrs. Virginia Kirshner.

The three senior boys recently honored as Regional's best athletes: Wayne Spiller, John Fultz, and John Mercury.

TENTH GRADUATION

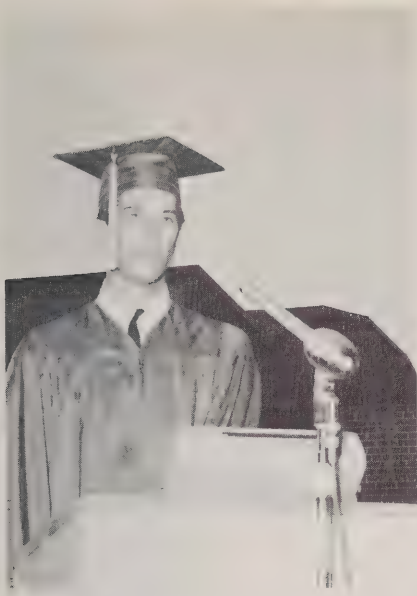

June 5, 1966
6:30 P.M.

Relief from responsibility is welcomed by the senior class officers. David Horton, vice president; Carolyn Filbin, secretary; Lauren Leone, treasurer, and Edward Mikoski, president.

Mr. James M. Jagger, School Committee Vice Chairman, welcomes the parents, relatives, and friends of the seniors to the graduation ceremony.

Keith Emmons

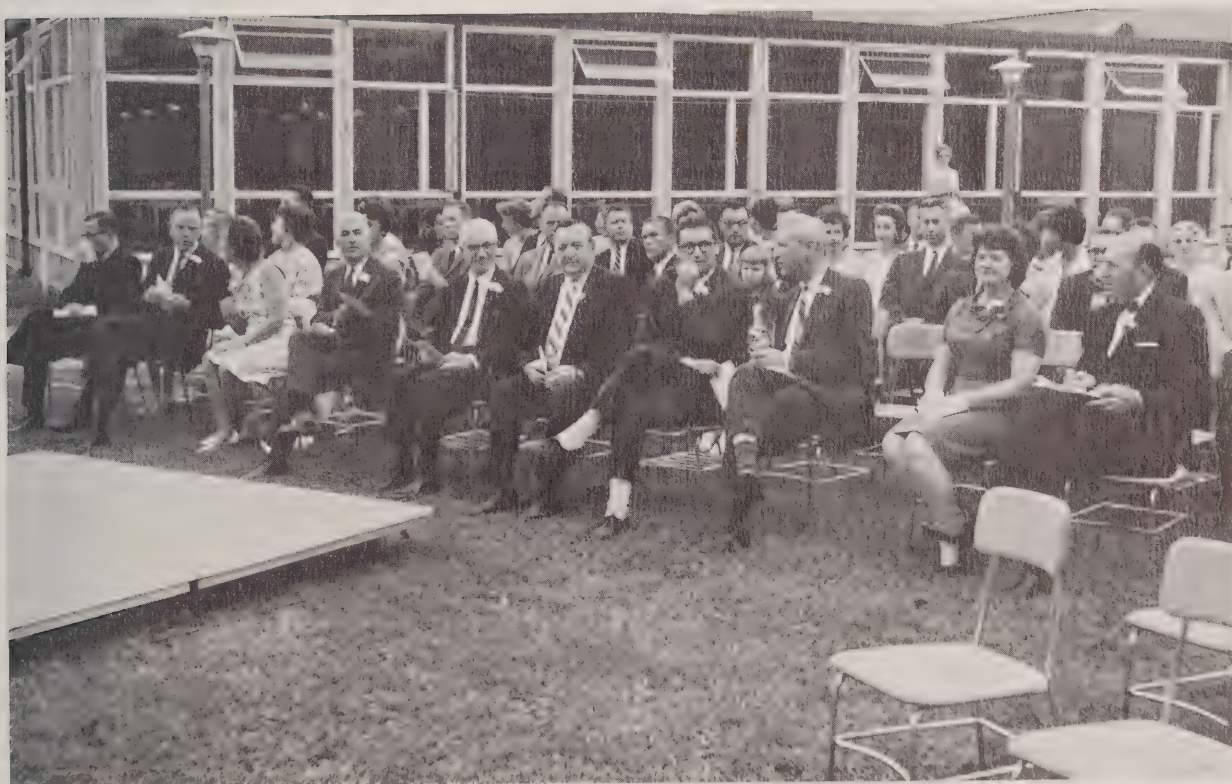

Four seniors, chosen by their classmates and teachers, gave the Commencement Addresses on the theme: "The Significance and Value of Education." The speakers were: Edward Mikoski, Class President; Ludy Herman, Keith Emmons, and David Palmer.

David Palmer

Lucy Herman

The Lincoln-Sudbury Regional School Officials, Program Participants, and Faculty. FRONT ROW, Rev. Charles Weber, Invocation; School Committee Members, Mr. James M. Jagger, Mrs. Ellen DeN. Cannon, Mr. Henry M. Morgan;

Rev. Charles Styron, Benediction; Supt. C. Newton Heath; School Committee Members, Dr. Howard W. Emmons, Mr. Robert W. Bierig, and Mrs. Virginia Kirshner; Dr. Leslie M. Tourville, Principal.

Dr. Tourville

Dr. Leslie M. Tourville, Principal, presented scholarships to the graduates as follows: The Paul J. Vernon $500 Scholarship to Robert Fagerlund; the Lincoln Scholarship Awards to Janet Chisholm, Barbara Gajewski, Elisabeth Sturgis, and Janet Whalen; the Kiwanis $500 Scholarship to Linda Stone; The Sudbury Teachers' Association $5000 Scholarship to Edward Mikoski, Jr.; The Class of 1966 Scholarship for service to the class to Carol Way; The Thursday Garden Club Scholarship to Dolores Kerwin.

Edward Mikoski, Jr., announced the class gift to the school — marble benches for the courtyard — accepted with thanks by Dr. Tourville.

Dr. Tourville then paid tribute to retiring Superintendent, C. Newton Heath, "whose accomplishment in charting and guiding the progress of the Sudbury schools and Lincoln-Sudbury Regional High School have brought national recognition to both." At the time no one realized that this would be Dr. Tourville's last graduation, also, or how appropriately his tribute to Mr. Heath described his own service to Regional.

Happy and somber are the graduation moods.

Dr. Tourville presents a scholarship to Dolores Kerwin.

Joseph Gentile receives his diploma from Dr. Emmons.

President's Message

Four years ago we seniors, entering this school as strangers from two different towns, were told that from that time on, we were to be treated as responsible young adults, and that the next four years would seem the shortest years of our lives. Entering high school was a big event for me, as it probably was for many of you. I said to myself, "Now I am becoming someone and soon I will be able to make my own important decisions."

Today, four years later, we are leaving Lincoln-Sudbury, no longer strangers from two different towns, but good friends from one school. As I look back I realize how much we have matured in this short period of time. I believe we are ready to make the vital decisions which will affect our adult lives.

As we have grown, this school has also grown. It has expanded, during ten short years in physical size and population, and even now the grounds are being invaded by cement mixers and bulldozers in preparation for future growth. It has also matured academically.

I am proud to be a graduate of such a school, supported by thoughtful taxpayers of Lincoln and Sudbury, and I shall remember these years as among the best of my life.

Edward Mikoski, President of the Class of 1966

ADMINISTRATION

FACULTY

PAUL J. VERNON

Mr. Paul J. Vernon was admired and respected by both students and faculty for his quiet and unassuming, yet efficient ways. In seven years as Guidance Director at Lincoln-Sudbury, Mr. Vernon supported and helped to build our school's fine curriculum and philosophy of education. He guided many students toward a promising future; their growth and success, as well as that of his school, were two of his greatest concerns. For what he was, and for all that he gave to Regional, he shall long be remembered.

Aug. 10, 1915 — Oct. 20, 1965

Mr. Vernon with National Merit Finalists of the Class of 1964.

SEATED: Peter Hathaway, Union College; Laurie Trees, Mount Holyoke; Richard Neumeier, University of Chicago. STANDING: Mr. Vernon, Charles Barnaby, Harvard; Charles Harris, Columbia.

C. NEWTON HEATH
B.S., Ed.M., University of New Hampshire
Superintendent

Upon his retirement, we pay public tribute to Mr. Heath, the man who has directed the growth of Regional from 1957 to 1966. The challenge of change and improvement found in him an ever-ready response.

ACTIVITIES

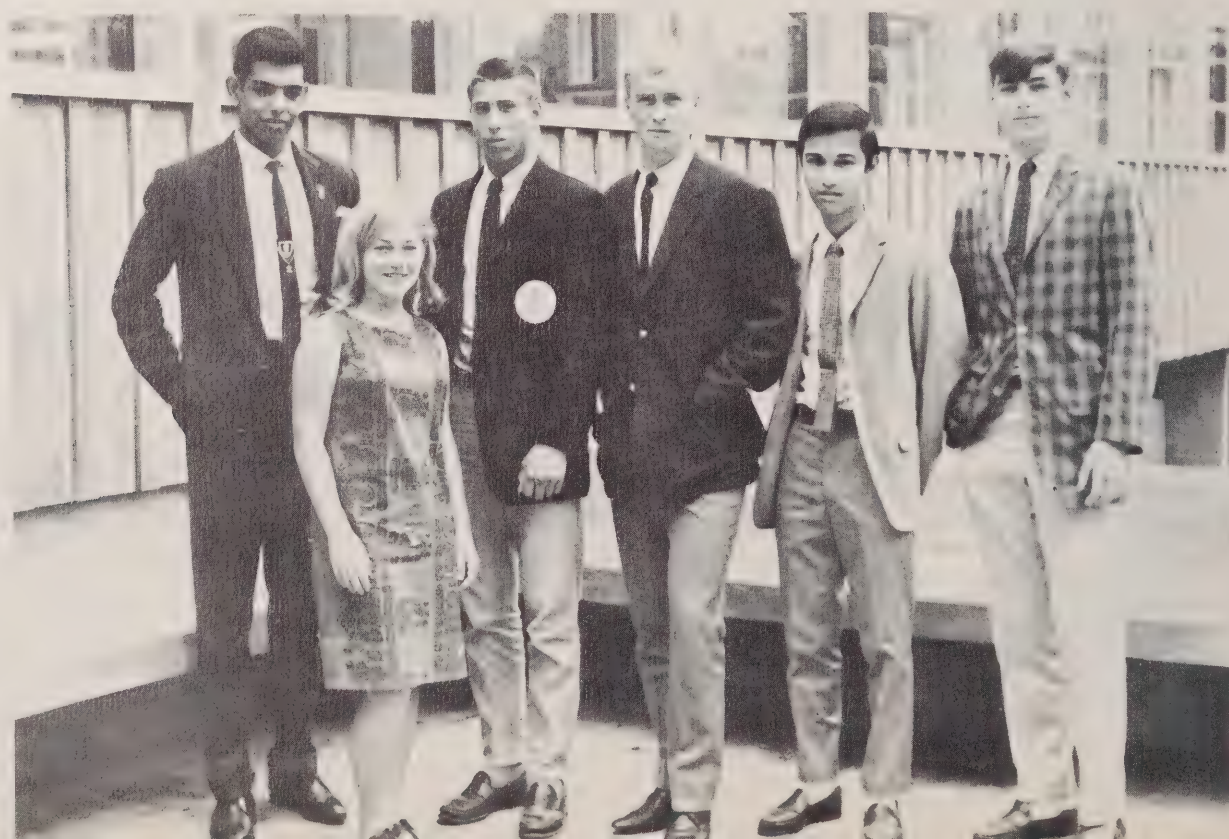

David Palmer, Lucy Herman, and David Gardner participated in the Experiment in International Living as community ambassadors from Lincoln and Sudbury under PTSA sponsorship.

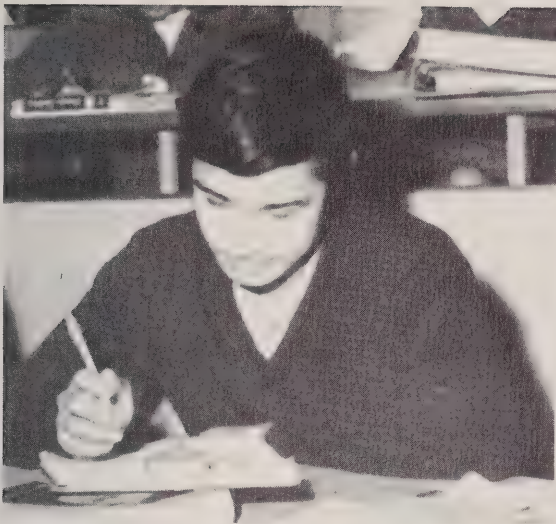

The student exchange program, begun in the summer of 1958, through the efforts of the late Miss Katherine McKenna, has developed from a town-twinning program with two towns in France, to an exchange program involving students from Lincoln and Sudbury who are sent abroad as "community ambassadors," and students from abroad who spend a school year at Regional.

Lucy Herman, who spent her summer living and traveling with a family in the Netherlands; David Gardner, who spent his summer exploring Italy with his Italian "brothers;" and David Palmer, who lived and traveled in Norway, were under the joint sponsorship of the Student Exchange Committee of the PTSA and the Experiment in International Living, in Putney, Vermont.

Cynthia Nystrom, a 1965 graduate of Lincoln-Sudbury Regional, is also participating in the student exchange program as a student at the Cheadle Hulme school in England.

Jorge attends one of the large group lectures in the lecture hall.

STUDENT EXCHANGE

Jorge Carreon, from Quezon City, Philippine Islands, came to Regional from the Jose Abad Santos School. Jorge is the first student to participate in an exchange created between his school and Regional by Mr. and Mrs. William Warren, of Sudbury, who were stationed in the Philippines with the Peace Corps. Joe McCune, of Lincoln, and Bob Clark, of Sudbury, were his hosts for his year at Regional.

Jorge, an accomplished pianist, honors us at a school assembly.

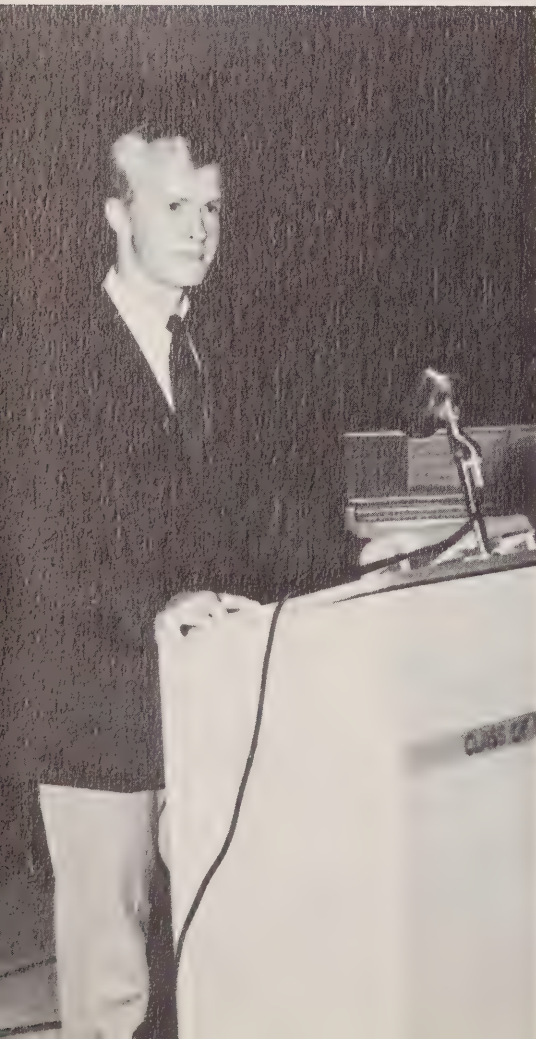

Mrs. McCune and her two sons, Joe and Jorge.

Leslie Manchanda came to Lincoln-Sudbury on a scholarship from Air India. He attends the Bishop School in Bombay, India. Kitty Wood, of Sudbury, and George and Gilbert Fullerton, of Lincoln, were his hosts for his year in the United States. Besides carrying a full academic schedule, Leslie also participated in the intramural soccer and winter track programs.

Kitty Wood introduces Leslie to his Lincoln-Sudbury schoolmates at an assembly held on his birthday.

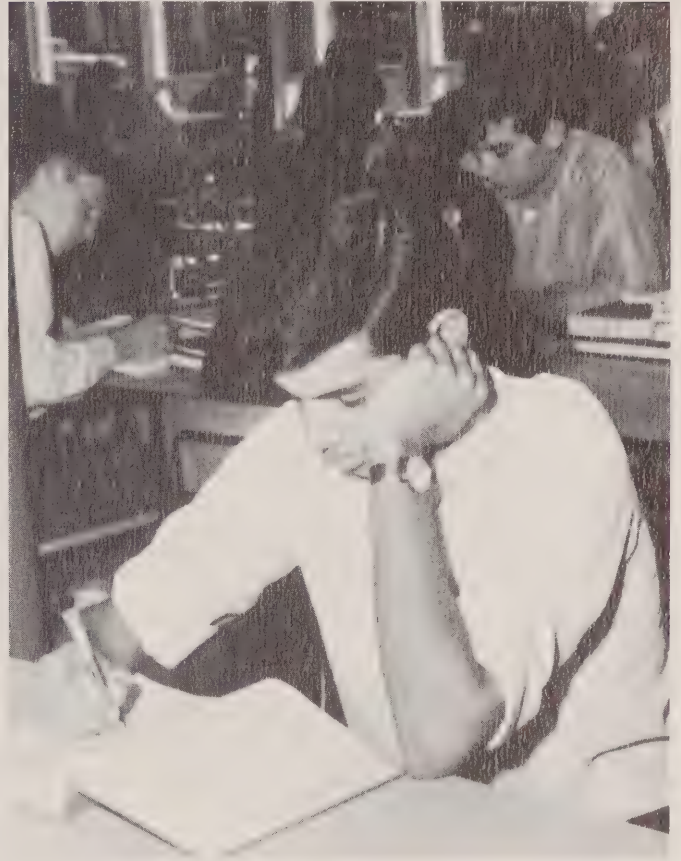

Jarmo Laakkonen came to Regional through the International Placement Service from the PHTK School in Helsinki, Finland. His hosts for the year were Chip Ellms, of Sudbury, and Frank Garrison, of Lincoln. Jarmo was rather overwhelmed at first by the "rush" of events, but, as the year went on, found himself completely involved in academics, the soccer and track teams, and in learning how the people in Lincoln and Sudbury live.

Our Finnish Exchange Student, Jarmo Laakkonen.

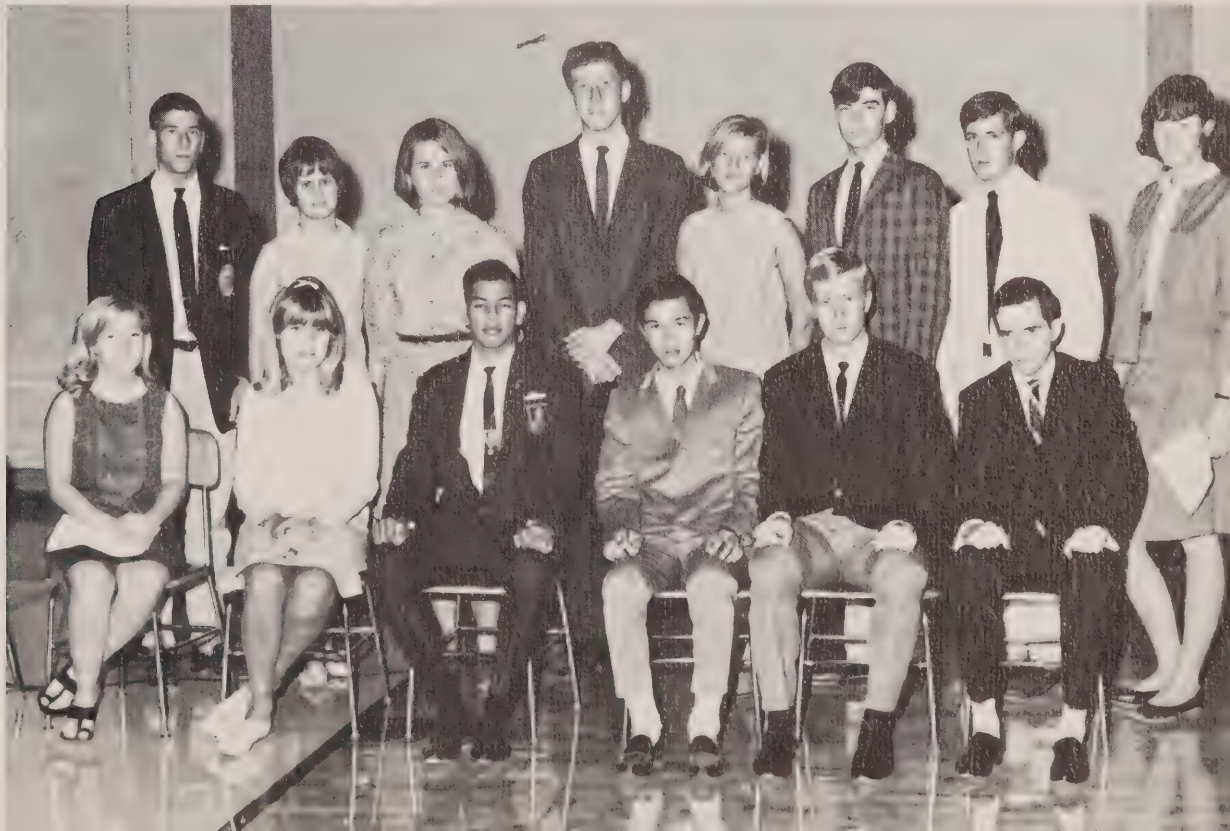

Jarmo found Regional's Senior-Freshman Welcome Dance a good place to learn the latest steps, with quite a few willing teachers.

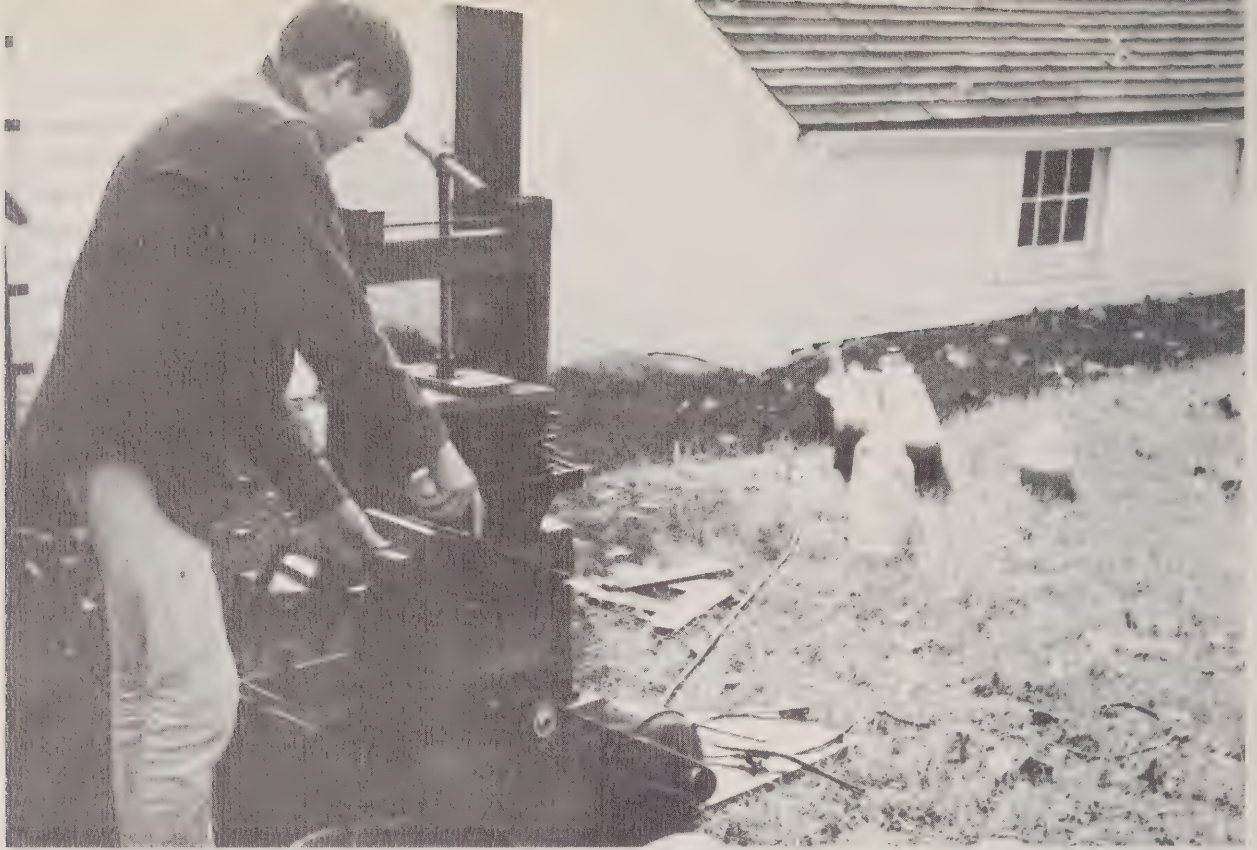

All the foreign students studying at Lincoln-Sudbury were introduced in a Student Exchange Assembly at which Heidi Grey presided. Regional's "ambassadors" explained the Experiment program.

Leslie adapted very well to Regional's academic program.

The student workers found various jobs awaiting them when they reached their assigned places of employment. Workers at the Emmons' spent the day making apple cider. A group of students also painted Mr. Bowdoin's house as a workday project.

Meanwhile, preparations for the International Dinner went on. The crates of chickens were delivered to the cafeteria. Students helped with this and with the serving of the dinner.

Students contributed their time and the money paid to them to the student exchange project.

WORKDAY

The Student Exchange Workday and International Dinner were held on October 12, 1965. Student participation in the workday resulted in the earning of a record amount of money which will be used to further the student exchange program at Regional. The International Dinner was attended by 600 people who later filled the gym to hear the student ambassadors report on their summer abroad, and to meet the incoming foreign exchange students.

The International Dinner annually benefits the student exchange program.

DRAMA

The Little Theatre Players Present

“The Madwoman of Chaillot”

by Jean Giraudoux
December 9,10,11

“The Lincoln-Sudbury Little Theatre Players captured the lightness and the gaiety of Giraudoux’s ‘The Madwoman of Chaillot’ in a swinging production directed by Harriet Rogers. The light touch of Mrs. Rogers’ skillful hands heightened the comedy and kept the poetic fantasy skimming merrily along.

“The technical aspects of the production, that is the two effective sets and the appropriate costumes, added to the overall charm of the production.”

Virginia Kirshner

. . . I hate ugliness. I love beauty. I hate meanness. I adore kindness
. . . "One of the most touching moments of the play was the hauntingly beautiful soliloquy spoken by Irma, the waitress, played by Kathy Hagerty."

V.K.

Carolyn Filbin, in the title role, gave us a complete Countess Aurelia of wit, energy, and intelligence, sufficiently eccentric to qualify as a Madwoman, yet richly endowed with greatness of human spirit."

V.K.

"At her left hand were her three fellow eccentrics: Constance, the Madwoman of Passey, with her imaginary dog, Dickie, played by Margaret Barnaby; Gabrielle, Madwoman of St. Sulpice and her voices, played by Margaret Avery, and Josephine, the Madwoman of La Concorde, played by Katherine Preston. Each of the three was an engaging portrait of a fantastic character."

V.K.

Avery, Filbin, Preston, Barnaby.

"At her right hand, to assist her in her plot to rid the world of evil, was the Raggicker, beautifully played by David Palmer, in an India-rubber blend of Marcel Marceau and Red Buttons."

V.K.

"I tell you, countess, we're finished. It's the end of free enterprise in this world!"

"No? Let's bet. I'll bet my iris against one of your gold buttons. Right? O Roderick, I know very well why you tried to drown yourself in the river."

"I know exactly what to do."

Countess, there was a time when old clothes were as good as new . . . "Keith Emmons, as the waiter at Chez Francis, displayed great skill in keeping things lively as he moved about the cafe habitues: the flower girl, the street singer, the deaf mute, the peddler, and the messenger."

V.K.

. . . to the unpracticed palate it tastes queer. But to the taste-buds of the expert . . .
 "The President, the very model of a modern multi-millionaire, was played by Albert England with suitable pomposity, and his business associate, the Prospector, who located the oil under Paris, was given a believable and energetic performance by Robert Kirshner. A brilliant lesson in stock manipulating was contributed by the Broker, played by Ian Butler. A convincing straight man for the two financial virtuosi was Thomas Davies, as the Baron."

CUM LAUDE

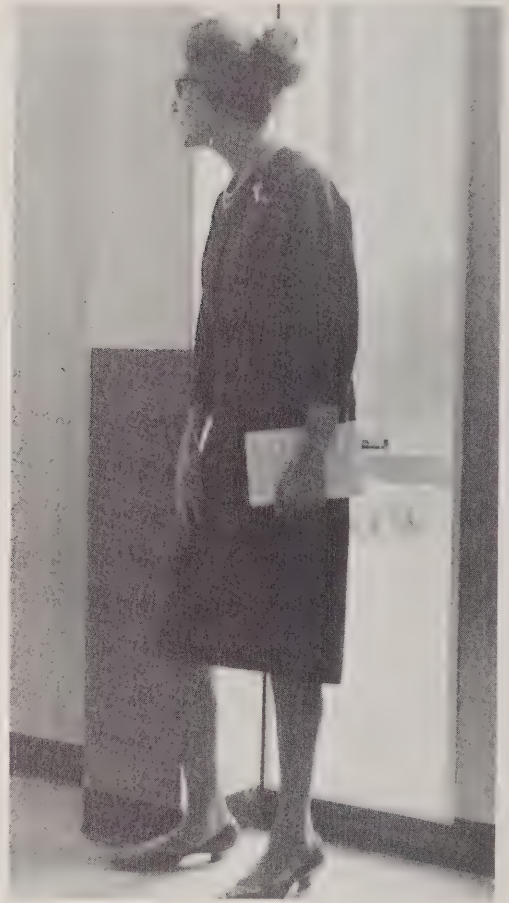

Grandma (Lucy Herman) and the Young Man (Albert England) rehearse a scene from "The Sandbox."

The members of Regional's Cum Laude Society were elected in the spring of their junior year on the basis of their high academic achievement. This year the members, under the direction of Mr. Frank Heys, sponsored a series of open symposiums on the theme, "A Look at Modern Times." Modern art, music, poetry, and drama were the topics treated by Regional faculty members, Mr. Edward Leary, Mr. Robert Wentworth, Mr. Thomas Puchalsky, and Mrs. Harriet Rogers, who chose to present Edward Albee's avant-garde sketch, "The Sandbox."

Mr. Richard Jeter and his crew work on "The Sandbox" set.

Mrs. Harriet Rogers directs the corridor rehearsal.

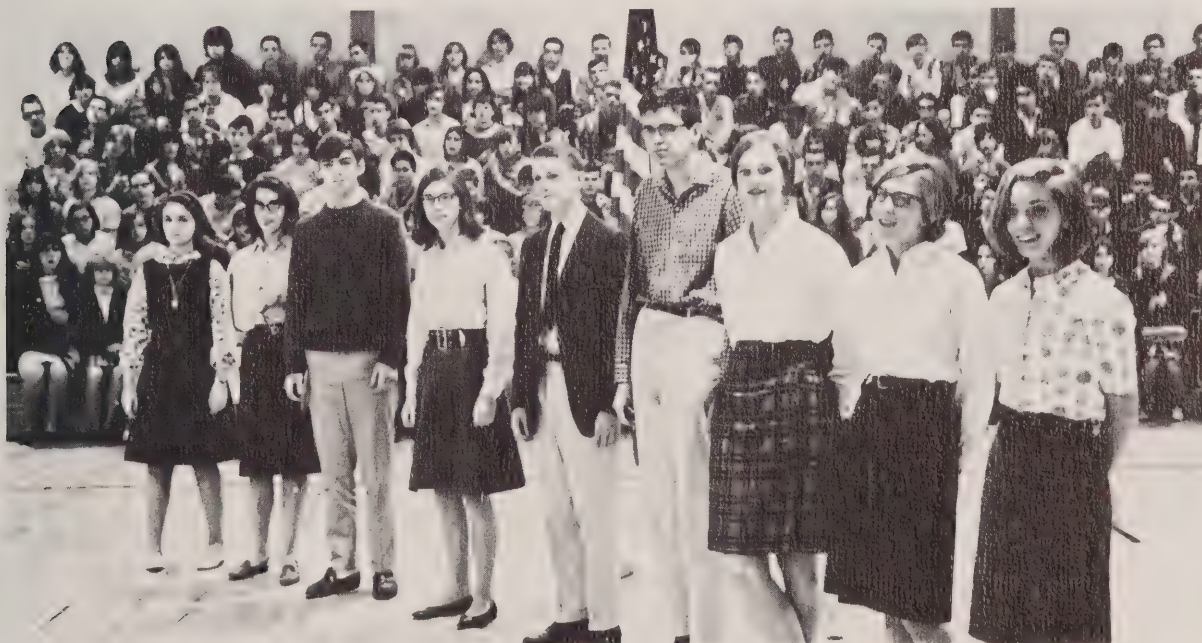

The cast: Mommy (Edie Garrison), Grandma (Lucy Herman), the Young Man (Albert England), Daddy (Robert Krishner) and the Musician (Marley Meyer) heard Prof. Samuel Hirsch, of Boston University, discuss Albee's sketch after their performance of it.

DYAD

This year the Dyad staff has attempted to show the many facets of Regional's growth in its first ten years. The opening section does this completely as possible, but the idea has been carried into all other sections of the book as well, with copy and photographs. We hope as much growth and maturity of school and students will be evident as future ten year spans spin by in Regional's busy atmosphere.

This year the staff of the Tom-Tom has tried to continue to present a printed newspaper to the student body. For the first time in the history of the school, advertising was sold to provide support for a school publication. Advertising was solicited from merchants in the surrounding towns.

The second page of the four-page paper is devoted to editorials and "Letters to the Editor" and the last page is a sports page, with complete sports coverage.

MATHEMATICS CONTEST GROUP

The Lincoln-Sudbury Mathematics Contest Group is one of 28 such math teams throughout Massachusetts. The teams are divided into three groups and Lincoln-Sudbury has consistently been one of the top two in its group, group Z, this year. There may be more than ten students on a team, but ten attend each monthly "meet." Six Lincoln-Sudbury students are in the top fifty in the competition: Albert England, Robert Hagmann, Ann Novak, Karl Schmalz, Dennis Flaherty, and Steven Goldstone.

The problems, which seemed to be easy during the first part of the year, increased in difficulty. They were discussed on the bus as well as during refreshment time. During the contest itself, team members waiting their turn to compete, practiced on the problems which their teammates were having to solve.

Poetry, plays, short stories, and essays submitted by students are read by the Kaleidoscope staff which holds weekly meetings to select material for publication in the school's literary magazine, an annual publication. The Kaleidoscope this year was, indeed, a student publication by a staff composed entirely of students.

SCHOOL COUNCIL

Turk, Leone, Lee, Mr. John Bowdoin, Advisor; THIRD ROW, Allen, McQueen, W. Hamilton, Clark, Palmer, McSheehy, Jozwicki, S. Hamilton.

School Council activities this year have included the orientation of freshmen and new students, assisting with the faculty scholarship barn dance, the December Formal, the Computer Dance, sponsoring a movie series, arranging for spectator buses to soccer and basketball games, and installation of vending machines for after-school snacks.

In an attempt to make the student government more representative and to have the students take a more active part in the administration of the school, committees were organized to investigate the reorganization of the council, and to establish a student dress code.

The Student Tutoring Service relies upon the ability of one student to communicate ideas, concepts, and methods to another student. Its success this year has been due to the interest and cooperation of both students and teachers. In the future the tutoring service hopes to expand its facilities to accommodate the increasing demand for tutoring.

Two groups make up the French Club this year: Le Salon, for third and fourth year French students and Les Paris-ites, for first and second year French students. Activities have included a bake sale, a trip to the Museum of Fine Arts to see French Impressionistic Art, a trip to a French restaurant, and a French movie. The emphasis in both groups has been upon fluency in French and learning French customs. Each Friday at the French table in the cafeteria "on parle français seulement."

Organized by Ronald Gedrim '67, the Conservation Club has been helping to clear local streams, has shown a series of conservation movies, and has taken ice fishing and spring fishing trips. Mem-

"HALLELUJAH!"

The singing of the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "Messiah" by chorus members and chorus alumni as the concluding selection of the annual Christmas Concert has become a tradition at Lincoln-Sudbury. Last Christmas more than one hundred alumni came from the audience to sing at Mr. Wentworth's invitation.

The choral program, under the direction of Mr. Robert G. Wentworth, has grown to include the Christmas Concert and the presentation of an orchestrated work by the Mixed Chorus. The Select and Special choruses also give a Fall Concert, make a Spring Tour, presenting daytime and evening concerts for other schools, and give a Pops Concert for the benefit of the Student exchange. This year a musical, "Plain and Fancy," was produced in April, in conjunction with the Drama Department.

Chorus is now a five-credit course for Select Chorus members. President of the chorus is Marley Meyer, with Mark Joyce as Vice-President. Section leaders are Heidi Grey, Carolyn Filbin, Charles Hagopian, and Joseph McCune.

Amen.

BAND

Our music department has expanded this year to include a thirty-five piece Concert Band, under the direction of Mr. William Edmonds. The band meets five times a week and is a major credit course in which its members learn elements of composition and theory, in addition to receiving instrumental instruction. The Flute Quartet, Brass Sextet, Clarinet Choir, and Dixieland Band are sub groups which meet one afternoon a week. The band plays for school assemblies and plans to present concerts.

Band officers for the year are: Warren Harpster, president; Wayne Maiuri, vice-president, and Rosemary Debye, secretary-Treasurer. Deborah Thurlow is librarian, and Room 20 is now the band room.

The Concert Band

The new Concert Band adds spirit to the rally before the crucial Medford game.

Cheerleading began early this year for the Lincoln-Sudbury cheerleaders. The girls, with Mrs. Patricia PUNCHARD as advisor, bought their own outfits — dark blue sweaters and tartans — and led the cheering at the soccer games. They also organized a courtyard Pep Rally before the Medford game — a game which determined whether or not the varsity would be eligible for tournament competition. Band selections, cheers, speeches, and class skits had the desired effect, as the Warriors did Beat Medford.

Mr. William Edmonds starts the music at the rally.
